INDEX TO VOLUME CLXXV.

AUTHORS.

Abbott, Maude E. Seymour. The portraits of Florence Nightingale, 561, 413, 453.
Adler, Herman M. Indications for wet packs in psychiatric cases; an analysis of one thousand packs given at the Psychopathic Hospital, Boston, Massachusetts, 673.
Adriance, V. Tubercular infection in infancy and childhood, 215; Tuberculosis in rural communities, 539.
Amsden, H. H. Ether anesthesia, 832.
Andrews, J. A. A timely brief for health insurance, 539.
Anthony, F. W. Industrial health legislation, 911.
Arnold, H. D. The "unpreparedness" of the medical profession, 111.
Atwood, C. A. Pistol-shot wound of the stomach, 136.
Austin, A. E. Progress in biochemistry, 639.
Ayer, J. B., and Vets, H. R. Intraspinal epidural abscess (pyogenic): case with autopsy, 865.

Bacon, G. The streptococcus mucosus capsulatus as a cause of mastoid disease, 602.
Baker, H. M., and Floyd, C. Protein extracts in states of hypersensitization, 199.
Batchelder, W. B. An error of quotation, 657.
Bateman, F. E. A general practitioner's opinion, 284.
Berlin, M. G. A report of three cases of typhus fever, 755.
Bigelow, G. H. A review of 127 clinical cases of ataxic paraplegia, 55.
Bine, R. Exfoliative dermatitis following neosalvarsan injections, 96.
Blaisdell, J. H. The menace of syphilis of today to the family of tomorrow, 7.
Boothby, W. M. The clinical value of metabolic studies of thyroid cases, 564.
Bowen, J. T. Report on dermatology, 758.
Bowditch, V. Y. Opening remarks of the president at the second annual meeting and conference, April 27, 1916, of the Massachusetts Anti-Tuberculosis League, 522; The history of the growth of the anti-tuberculosis movement in Massachusetts, and the lessons to be learned therefrom, 847.
Brown, T. R. A clinical study of the secretions of the digestive tract, 775.
Bryant, J. The ileo-cecal valve and the chronic intestinal invalid, 572; Artificial heliotherapy, the mercury-vapor-quartz light a valuable therapeutic agent, 600.
Buchholz, H., et al. Eleventh report of progress in orthopedic surgery, 309, 342.
Buck, C. L. Circulatory disturbances in the obese, 332.
Bunker, S. M., and Mott, G. E. Report of the clinical symptomatology and laboratory findings in three cases of general paresis under intravenous arsenobenzol treatment, 338.
Burnham, A. C. Sprains and sprain-fracture of the wrist joint, 118.

Cabot, H., and Crabtree, E. G. The mechanism of the protection afforded by the drainage of prostatics as a preliminary to operation, 633.
Cannon, W. B. Conditions affecting secretion of the thyroid gland, 562.
Chapin, C. V. Scarlet fever, 715.
Chase, H. M. Pathology of clavus (soft corn), 134.
Cheever, D. Some aspects of the treatment of compound fractures under civil and military conditions, 442.
Clap, E. W. Progress in ophthalmology, 798.
Coiler, F. A. Fractures in base hospital, 741.
Cook, P. H. Roentgenotherapy in hypertrophy of the thymus gland, 483.
Coriat, I. H. Dystonia musculorum deformans—Oppenheim's new disease of children and young adults, 383.
Cornwall, E. E. The treatment of obesity by a rational diet, 601.
Cotton, F. J. The treatment of hip fractures, 438; Hospitals and workmen's insurance, 461; Hospital and general practitioner, 433; Sickness survey in Boston, 112; A consideration of workingmen's accident and sickness insurance in their relation to the medical profession, 893; Treatment of hip fractures: a rejoinder, 922.
Coues, W. P. Guillaume Dupuytren, 1777-1835, 489; Harvey's trip to Padua, 774.
Crabtree, E. G., and Cabot, H. The mechanism of the protection afforded by the drainage of prostatics as a preliminary to operation, 633.
Croft, B. P. Hygiene of the mind, 251.
Cronin, H. J. The administration of the Workingmen's Compensation Act by the City of Cambridge, Mass., 906.
Crosby, J. G. The Workingmen's Compensation Act, 883.
Curtis, Hannah. The function of social service in state hospitals, 271.
Cutler, Alice S. Corsets versus backache and fatigue, 168.

Danforth, M. S., et al. Eleventh report of progress in orthopedic surgery, 309, 342.
Darrach, W. The importance of early reduction of fractures with displacement, 437.
DeNormandie, R. L. Report on obstetrics, 867.
Donoghue, F. D. Some medical aspects of the Workingmen's Compensation Act, 400; Restoring the injured employee to work, 457; The history and operation of the Massachusetts Workingmen's compensation law, 897.
Downing, A. F. The general practitioner's "Apologia pro vita sua," 17; Were the sailors of Columbus the first European syphilitics?, 515.

Edes, R. T. Is it worth while?, 360.
Emerson, H. Preparedness for health, 811.

Fairbanks, A. W. Lighter forms of poliomyelitis, 436.
Fell, E. W. Fatty degenerative changes in the Purkinje cell belt of the cerebellum in exhaustive infective psychoses, 819.
Fink, E. B. Acute primary "idiopathic" phlegmonous gastritis: report of a case, with bacteriological findings, 795.
Flood, E. Epilepsy, 408.
Floyd, C., and Baker, H. M. Protein extracts in states of hypersensitization, 199.
Fraser, F. R. Epidemic poliomyelitis, the symptomatology and diagnosis in the acute stages, 83.
Fremont-Smith, F. Treatment of diabetes, 476.

Gardiner, J. P. Pregnancy complicated with hernia, 637.
Gay, G. W., and Warren, J. C. David Williams Cheever, A.M., M.D., LL.D., 71.
Getchell, A. C. A year's work of a local tuberculosis hospital, 229.
Giraldi, H. A Peruvian custom, 395.
Goddard, H. H. The menace of mental deficiency from the standpoint of heredity, 269.
Goldthwait, J. E. Anatomic form and posture, important factors in the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis, 88.
Goodale, J. L. The diagnosis and management of vasomotor disturbances of the upper air passages, 181.
Graves, S. Multiple primary heterogeneous tumors: a case of two primary malignant tumors, one of the kidney, the other of the stomach, with metastases from each in the liver, 949.
Greeley, H. P. Speculations regarding the pancreas and metabolism in diabetes, 753.

Hawes, J. B., 2d. Common sense and consumption, 115; Prevalence of tuberculosis in Massachusetts, 146; A correction, 395.
Hill, T. C. Prolapsus ani in adults, 127.
Hitchcock, J. S. The Massachusetts tuberculosis dispensaries and their relation to the practising physician, 225; Report of the fatal cases of diphtheria occurring in the Connecticut valley health district in Massachusetts during 1914, 718.
Homans, J. A study of the symptoms and treatment of congenital transduodenal bands, 665.
Hornor, A. A. Definition and detection of acidosis in diabetes mellitus, 148.
Howell, W. W. Treatment of tuberculosis in infancy, 411.

Jacobs, P. D. Third New England tuberculosis conference, 395.
Jarrett, Mary C. The intensive group of social service cases, 824.
Jones, D. F. Relation of the deep cul-de-sac to prolapse of the rectum and uterus and to rectocele, 623.
Joslin, E. P. Results obtained in the treatment of diabetes mellitus, May 1, 1915-May 1, 1916, 147.

Kelley, E. R. The plan of the State Department of Health for more tuberculosis hospitals, 524.
Kendall, E. C. Recent advances in our knowledge of the active constituent in the thyroid; its chemical nature and function, 557.
Kilgore, A. R. Peripheral neuritis following emetin treatment of amebic dysentery, 380.
Klebs, A. C. Leonardo Da Vinci's scientific research, with particular reference to his investigations of the vascular system, 45.
Knapp, P. C. The treatment of paresis by intra-ventricular injections of diarsenolized serum with presentation of cases, 24.
Konikow, M. J. A case of bloody tears, 607.

Ladd, W. E. Fractures of the lower end of the humerus, 220.
Labey, F. H. Partial thyroidectomy with local anesthesia, scopolamine and morphia, 566.
Labey, F. H., and Powers, H. The first case in which abdominal surgery was suggested for the relief of epilepsy, 124.

305085

Lane, J. W. Pre-operative roentgenological examination in cancer of the breast, 232.
Lawrence, C. H. Failing cardiac compensation during pregnancy, 858.
Lewis, D. M. Control of scarlet fever, 682.
Locke, E. A. The occurrence and diagnosis of pericarditis, 590.
Lord, F. T. Hemoptysis as a symptom, 113.
Lothrop, Mrs. W. H. The value of a program of work for anti-tuberculosis societies, 535.
Low, H. C., et al. Eleventh report of progress in orthopedic surgery, 309, 342.
Lund, F. B., and Morrison, H. A case of double empyema successfully operated upon, with remarks upon localization, 606.
Lyon, J. A. Contact points between pulmonary tuberculosis and syphilis, 285.

Mallory, F. B. The etiology of scarlet fever, 713.
McCrudden, F. H. The treatment of chronic disease is a problem of applied physiology, 57; The teaching of therapeutics as a branch of applied physiology, 93; Scientific research in chronic medicine from the physiological point of view, 129; The physiological point of view and autopsies, 167; Insufficient oxygen supply as a factor in disease, 480.
McLaughlin, A. J. Anterior poliomyelitis, 587; The relation of the State Department of Health to the communicable diseases of childhood, 703.
Malone, C. Workingmen's compensation, 773.
Meade, J. P. Workingmen's compensation for accident and sickness, from the point of view of organized labor, 905.
Medalia, L. S. Hay fever: its treatment with autogenous vaccines and pollen extract, 201, The present status of alveolar osteomyelitis (pyorrhea alveolaris). Its causes and treatment with vaccines, 367.
Mehan, J. A., and Tighe, M. A. A square deal to all, 471.
Merrill, R. H. The viewpoints, 472; Workingmen's compensation for accident and sickness from the point of view of the general practitioner, 902.
Miller, R. H., and Scudder, C. L. Certain facts concerning the operative treatment of fracture of the patella, 441.
Mixter, C. G. Undescended testicle in children, 631.
Mixter, W. J. A case of epidural intraspinal abscess of pyogenic origin, 864.
Moore, G. A. The flexed spica and wheel-chair in the treatment of fractures of the neck of the femur, 448.
Morse, J. L. Whooping cough: the measures to be taken for its control and prevention, 723.
Morrison, H. A statistical study of the mortality from diabetes mellitus in Boston from 1895 to 1913, with special reference to its occurrence among Jews, 54.
Morrison, H., and Lund, F. B. A case of double empyema successfully operated upon, with remarks upon localization, 606:
Morrison, W. R. Blood transfusion in the great war, 629.
Mott, G. E., and Bunker, S. M. Report of the clinical symptomatology and laboratory findings in three cases of general paresis under intravenous arsenobenzol treatment, 338.

Osgood, R. B., et al. Eleventh report of progress in orthopedic surgery, 309, 342.
Otis, E. O. The physically defective, 737.

Park, W. H. Diphtheria, 721.
Paul, W. E. Epidural intraspinal tumor of two years' duration; operation; recovery, 133.
Peabody, F. W. Tests of renal function from the standpoint of the general practitioner, 158.
Perry, C. E. Tuberculosis carriers, 292.
Philbrick, R. H. A study of peptic ulcer from the diagnostic point of view, 121.
Pierce, M. V. A case of poliomyelitis, 436.
Place, E. H. Measles and the public health, 704.
Porter, C. A. Surgery of the thyroid gland, 551.
Porter, W. T. Shock at the front, 854.
Post, A. Address at the awarding of the John Harvard scholarships, 1916, 473.
Post, A., and Shattuck, F. C. James Clarke White, M.D., 79.
Powers, H., and Lahey, H. The first case in which abdominal surgery was suggested for the relief of epilepsy, 124; Some of the clinical evidence relating to the etiology of epilepsy, including some notes on the condition of the teeth as a factor in its production, and on its relation to alcoholism and to mental defect, 861.
Powers, Sarah H. John Clarence Cutter, M.D., 675.
Pratt, J. H. The diagnosis and clinical characteristics of gout, 925.
Putnam, J. J. Mental preparedness, 260; David Francis Lincoln, M.D., 693; Gaps in medical education, 733.

Reed, A. C. The use of emetin, 375.
Reed, W. G. A rejoinder on workmen's compensation, 550.
Regis, E. Psychic and neuropsychic affections in war, 784.
Reynolds, E. An expedient for the radical cure of some retroversions, 830.
Richards, G. L Embolic pneumonia following the mastoid operation. Report of three cases, 206.
Richardson, M. W. The rat and infantile paralysis: A theory, 397.
Ridlon, J. Jean-Pierre David, the man who potted Pott, 336.
Rieger, J. B., and Solomon, H. C. Spinal fluid sugar, 817.
Robinson, B. Pyorrhea alveolaris and its treatment, 472; Ammonium salicylate in poliomyelitis, 773.
Rogers, O. F., Jr. Observations on the blood sugar in diabetes mellitus, 152.
Rossy, C. S. The Yerkes-Bridges point scale as applied to candidates for employment at the Psychopathic Hospital, 822.
Rubin, S. H. Drug addiction and modern methods for its control, 792.
Rushmore, S. Progress in gynecology, 494; Treatment of weak labor pains, 659; Better doctoring for less money, 434.

Schadt, G. L. What constitutes clinical tuberculosis in adults?, 298.
Scudder, C. L., and Miller, R. H. Certain facts concerning the operative treatment of fracture of the patella, 441.
Seymour, M. The treatment of Graves' disease by the roentgen ray, 568.
Shattuck, F. C., and Post, A. James Clarke White, M.D., 79.
Shohan, J. Some theoretical considerations on the present status of roentgen therapy, 321.
Smith, G. G. The excretion of hexamethylenamin by damaged kidneys, 569.
Solomon, H. C., and Rieger, J. B. Spinal fluid sugar, 817.
Southard, E. E. The major divisions of mental hygiene—public, social, individual, 404.
Soutter, R., et al. Eleventh report of progress in orthopedic surgery, 309, 342.
Stearns, A. W. What recent investigations have shown to be the relation between mental defect and crime, 406.
Stedman, Anne Bradstreet. An outline of the elements and treatment of stammering, 818.
Stedman, H. R. Mental pitfalls of adolescence, 695.
Steinharter, E. C. Acute arthritis experimentally produced by intravenous injections of the staphylococcus pyogenes, 59.
Stone, A. K. Some of the problems of the trustees of the Massachusetts hospitals for consumptives, 533.
Stone, S. H. Report of the secretary of the Massachusetts Anti-Tuberculosis League, 537.

Talbot, F. B. Asthma in children, 11. Its relation to anaphylaxis, 191; Idiosyncrasy to cow's milk: Its relation to anaphylaxis, 409.
Tapper, J. W. The relation of the anti-tuberculosis society to the local board of health, 526.
Tighe, M. A., and Mehan, J. A. A square deal to all, 471.
Thom, D. A. A second note on the frequency of epilepsy in the offspring of epileptics, 599.
Thompson, P. H. Eye changes in renal diseases: their diagnostic and prognostic value, 161.
Tracey, E. A. The normal reaction of the skin to stroking, 197.
Truesdale, P. E. Vaginal hysterectomy for procidentia, with a report of fifty cases, 13.
Turnbull, J. A. Anaphylactic action of grains on respiratory tract, 931.

Van Zile, Mary. The visiting tuberculosis nurse, 528.
Viets, H. R., and Ayer, J. B. Intraspinal epidural abscess (pyogenic): case with autopsy, 865.

Warren, J. C., and Gay, G. W. David Williams Cheever, A.M., M.D., LL.D., 71.
Washburn, F. H. Some efficiency problems in country medical practice, 328.
West, T. O. The medical department of a modern industrial plant, 914.
White, C. J. Certain occupations as contributing factors to diseases of the skin, 35.
White, P. D. Auricular standstill: an unusual effect of digitalis on the heart, with special reference to the electrocardiogram, 233.
White, W. A. The meaning of the mental hygiene movement, 264.
Whitman, R. The treatment of hip fractures, 734.
Whitney, C. M. Hematocele of the tunica vaginalis, with the report of an unusual case, 51.
Whittemore, W. S. A suggestion as to the prevention of infantile paralysis, 231.
Wodehouse, R. P. Preparation of vegetable food proteins for anaphylactic tests, 195.
Wood, N. K. Syphilis of the lungs, 677
Woodward, S. B. The propaganda of anti-vaccination, 694.
Wright, L. T. The effect of alcohol on the rate of discharge from the stomach, 627.
Wright, Helen M. Routine mental tests as the proper basis of practical measures in social service: a first study made from 30,000 cases cared for by 27 organizations in Boston and surrounding districts, 934.

Young, E. L., Jr., Anesthesia, 22.

SUBJECTS.

Abortion, Criminal, and the will to survive, 64.
Abscess, epidural intraspinal, of pyogenic origin, a case, W. J. Mixter, M.D., 864; Intraspinal epidural (pyogenic), case with autopsy, James B. Ayer, M.D., and Henry R. Viets, M.D., 865.
Acidosis in diabetes mellitus, definition and detection of, Albert A. Hornor, M.D., 148.
Acute Psychoses of war, 805.
Adolescence, occupation and health in human types in the period of, 649; Mental pitfalls of, Henry R. Stedman, M.D., 695.
Airmen, tests for, 138.
Air Passages, vasomotor disturbances of the, the diagnosis and management of, J. L. Goodale, M.D., 181.
Alcohol, the action of, 208; The effect of, on the rate of discharge from the stomach, L. T. Wright, M.D., 627; Mortality from war and, 692.
Alcoholism, relation of epilepsy to, Hale Powers, M.D., 861.
Alveolar Osteomyelitis, the present status of, its causes and treatment with vaccines, Leon S. Medalia, M.D., 367; Pyorrhea alveolaris and its treatment, 391.
Amebic Dysentery, peripheral neuritis following emetin treatment of, A. R. Kilgore, M.D., 380.
American Association for the Prevention of Infant Mortality, meeting of, 505.
American Committee for Medical Preparedness, 103.
American Public Health Association, meeting of, 505.
American Red Cross, base hospital units, 33, 211; Appeal for aid, 68; Instruction to chapters, 68; Nursing service, 247; New bureau in New York, 653.
Ammonium Salicylate in poliomyelitis, Beverley Robinson, M.D., 773.
Amputation without skin flaps, 428.
Anaphylactic Tests, preparation of vegetable food proteins for, R. P. Wodehouse, 195.
Anaphylaxis, its relation to asthma in children, Fritz B. Talbot, M.D., 191; Protein extracts in states of hypersensitization, Horace M. Baker and Cleaveland Floyd, M.D., 199; Relation of idiosyncrasy to cow's milk to, Fritz B. Talbot, M.D., 409.
Anatomic Form and posture, important factors in the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis, Joel E. Goldthwait, M.D., 88.
Anesthesia, Edward L. Young, Jr., M.D., 22; Ether, H. H. Amsden, M.D., 832.
Animal Transmission of human diseases, 510.
Anterior Poliomyelitis, A. J. McLaughlin, M.D., 587.
Anti-Hog-Cholera Serum, new method of making, 179.
Anti-Tuberculosis Movement in Massachusetts, the history of the growth of the, and the lessons to be learned therefrom, Vincent Y. Bowditch, M.D., 847.
Anti-Vaccination, the propaganda of, 688; Samuel B. Woodward, M.D., 694; Jassica L. C. Henderson, 694.
Apologia pro vita sua, the general practitioner's, Andrew F. Downing, M.D., 17.
Apraxia, more reports of, 139.
Army Medical Corps examination, 658; And navy, the need of psychiatrists in, 803.
Arseno-Benzol Treatment, intravenous, report of the clinical symptomatology and laboratory findings in three cases of general paresis under, G. E. Mott, M.D., and S. M. Bunker, M.D., 338.
Arthritis, Acute, experimentally produced by intravenous injections of the staphylococcus pyogenes, E. C. Steinbarter, M.D., 59.
Artificial Heliotherapy, the mercury-vapor-quartz light a valuable therapeutic agent, John Bryant, M.D., 600.
Asthma in Children, II. its relation to anaphylaxis, Fritz B. Talbot, M.D., 191.
Ataxic Paraplegia, a review of 127 cases of, G. H. Bigelow, 99.
Auricular Standstill, an unusual effect of digitalis on the heart, with especial reference to the electrocardiogram, Paul D. White, M.D., 233.
Australia, venereal disease in, 577.
Autopsies, the physiological point of view and, Francis H. McCrudden, M.D., 167.

Baldwinsville hospital cottages, 547.
Base Hospital Units, American Red Cross, 33, 211.
"Better Doctoring for less money," correspondence on: A question of medical ethics, H. P. Greeley, M.D., 70; A general practitioner's opinion, Frank E. Bateman, M.D., 284; Is it worth while? Robert T. Edes, M.D., 360; Hospital and general practitioner, Frederic J. Cotton, M.D., 433; Better doctoring for less money, Stephen Rushmore, M.D., 434; The general practitioner's "apologia pro vita sua," Andrew F. Downing, M.D., 17.
Biochemistry, progress in, A. Everett Austin, M.D., 639.
Birth Control, moving picture about, at Boston theatre, 64.
Birth Rates, declining, 432.
Blinded Soldiers, the future of, 435.
Blood, pressure, low, shock and, 873; Sugar in diabetes mellitus, observations on, Orville F. Rogers, Jr., M.D., 152; Transfusion in the great war, William Reid Morrison, M.D., 629.
Bloody Tears, a case of, M. J. Konikow, M.D., 607.
Book Reviews: Asch, P., Twelve lectures on the modern treatment of gonorrhea in the male, 100; Barton, Wilfred M., Manual of vital function testing methods, 463.
Bayliss, W. M., Principles of general physiology, 424; Beesley, Louis, and Johnston, T. B., A manual of surgical anatomy, 802; Benedict, F. G., and Talbot, Fritz B., The physiology of the newborn infant, character and amount of katabolism, 504; Berkeley, Comyns, and Bonney, Victor, A guide to gynecology in general practice, 687; Brooks, H. T., Diagnostic methods, 503; Brophy, Truman W., et al., Oral surgery, 207; Brown, Lawrason, Rules for recovery from tuberculosis, 463.
Crile, George W., The kinetic drive, its phenomena and control, 503; Cullen, Thomas Stephen, The umbilicus and its diseases, 136.
Davis, Carl Henry, Painless childbirth, 687; Davison, Charles, and Smith, Franklin D., Autoplastic bone surgery, 207.
Encyclopedia medica, 207.
Fishberg, Maurice, Pulmonary tuberculosis, 574.
Gaskell, Walter Holbrook, The involuntary nervous system, 350; Gile, Ben Clark, The nose, throat and ear, 349; Gilliam, D. Tod, A text-book of practical gynecology for practitioners and students, 463; Gould, George M., Practitioner's medical dictionary, 504; Graves, William P., Gynecology, 833.
Hare, Hobart A., Progressive medicine, 504; Progressive medicine, (Vol. xix, No. 3), 608, Hawk, Philip B. Practical physiological chemistry, 171; Hazen, Henry H., Skin cancer, 425; Diseases of the skin, 100; Hertzler, Arthur E., Surgical operations with local anesthesia, 100; Hill, Lewis Webb, A manual of practical laboratory diagnosis, 425; Hoffman, F. L., The mortality of cancer throughout the world, 350; Hull, Alfred J., Surgery in war, 951; Hutchinson, Robert, An index of treatment, 727.
International medical annual, 1915, 833.
Kanavel, Allen B., Infections of the hand, 540; Kover, George M., Diseases of occupation and vocational hygiene, 503; Krehl, Rudolph, The basis of symptoms, the principles of clinical pathology, 574.
Lejars, Felix, Urgent surgery, 349; Lincoln, Merrick, Artificial feeding of infants, 100; Linden, Simeon, Memoirs of a physician, 539; Lowenburg, Harry, A practical treatise on infant feeding, 687; Lovett, Robert W., Lateral curvature of the spine and round shoulder, 425; Treatment of infantile paralysis, 241.
McKendrick, Archibald, Back injuries and their significance under the Workmen's Compensation and other acts, 425; McMechan, F. H., Editor, American yearbook of anesthesia and analgesia, 727; The medical clinics of Chicago, 241, 277; Mendel, Lafayette B., Changes in the food supply and their relation to nutrition, 765.
National formulary, the, 802; Norris, George William, Blood pressure, 350.
Peter, Luther C., The principles and practice of perimetry, 349; Pilcher, Paul M., Practical cystoscopy and the diagnosis of surgical diseases of the kidneys and urinary bladder, 314; Practical medicine series, Vol. viii, materia medica and therapeutics, 540; Vol. v., pediatrics and orthopedic surgery, 833; The practitioner's visiting list, 915.
Royster, Lawrence T., A handbook on infant feeding, 349.
Schafer, Sir Edward A., The endocrine organs, 350; Skeel, R. E., A manual of gynecology and pelvic surgery for students and practitioners, 504; Sluss, John W., Emergency surgery, 314; Smithies, Frank, Cancer of the stomach, 388; Squire, J. Edward, Medical hints for the use of medical officers temporarily employed with troops, 574; Still, E. R., Practical bacteriology, blood work and animal parasitology, 834; Smith, Amy Armour, The operating room, 915.
Thoma, Kurt H., Oral abscesses, 834; Thorington, James, Refraction of the human eye and methods of estimating the refraction, 802.
Waite, Edna A., and Peck, Robert E., A purin-free dietary, 765.
Boston Psychopathic Hospital, third annual conference in the medical and social work of the hospital, June 18, 1915, 817.
British Military Orthopedic Hospitals, 250.
Bruyere, Jean Pierre Joseph, Army surgeons as military commanders, 621.

Cancer, American Society for the Control of, 654; Of the breast, pre-operative roentgenological examination in, John W. Lane, M.D., 232.
Cardiac Compensation, failing, during pregnancy, Charles H. Lawrence, M.D., 858.
Cervantes, medical knowledge of, 352.
Cheever, David Williams, A.M., M.D., LL.D., Memorial address, George W. Gay, M.D., and J. Collins Warren, M.D., 71.

Christian Science practitioners, legislation regarding, 609.
Chromatic Encephalopsy, 576.
Chronic Disease, the treatment of, is a problem of applied physiology, Francis H. McCrudden, M.D., 57; Scientific research in chronic medicine from the physiological point of view, Francis H. McCrudden, M.D., 129.
Circulatory Disturbance in the obese, Clifton L. Buck, M.D., 332.
Clavus, pathology of, Henry M. Chase, 134.
Clinical Congress of Surgeons of North America, meeting of, 505, 691.
Colored thinking, 576.
Columbus and syphilis: were the sailors of Columbus the first European syphilitics?, Andrew F. Downing, M.D., 515.
Communicable Diseases, in Massachusetts, 109, 143, 468, 618, 809; of childhood, symposium on, 703; of childhood, the relation of the State Department of Health to, Allan J. McLaughlin, M.D., 703; Measles and the public health, Edwin H. Place, M.D., 704; The etiology of scarlet fever, F. B. Mallory, M.D., 713; Scarlet fever, Charles V. Chapin, M.D., 715; Report of the fatal cases of diphtheria occurring in the Connecticut valley health district in Massachusetts during 1914, John S. Hitchcock, M.D., 718; Diphtheria, William H. Park, M.D., 721; Whooping cough, the measures to be taken for its control and prevention, John Lovett Morse, M.D., 723.
Compound Fractures, treatment of, under civil and military conditions, David Cheever, M.D., 442.
Consultation Clinic, the pay, at the Massachusetts General Hospital, 33; versus general practitioner, see "Better doctoring for less money." At the Mount Sinai Hospital, 396.
Consumption and common sense, John B. Hawes, 2d, M.D., 115; see Tuberculosis.
Cord Tumor, epidural intraspinal, of two years' duration; operation; recovery, W. E. Paul, M.D., 133.
Correspondence: The "unpreparedness" of the medical profession, H. D. Arnold, M.D., 111.
An error of quotation, William B. Bachelder, M.D., 657; A general practitioner's opinion, Frank E. Bateman, M.D., 284.
Sickness survey of Boston, Frederic J. Cotton, M.D., 112; Hospital and general practitioner, 433; Harvey's journey to Padua, William Pearce Coues, M.D., 774.
Is it worth while?, Robert T. Edes, M.D., 360.
Lighter forms of poliomyelitis, Arthur W. Fairbanks, M.D., 436.
A Peruvian custom, Horace Giraldi, 395; A question of medical ethics, H. P. Greeley, M.D., 70; The problem of social health insurance, Thomas F. Gunning, 956.
Prevalence of tuberculosis in Massachusetts, John B. Hawes, 2d, M.D., 146; A correction, John B. Hawes, 2d, M.D., 395; The Doten Bill: its graver errors, John J. Hurley, M.D., 922.
Industrial health insurance, 157.
Third New England tuberculosis conference, Philip P. Jacobs, 395.
Workingmen's compensation, Charles Malone, M.D., 773; The viewpoints, W. H. Merrill, M.D., 472.
British military orthopedic hospitals, W. G. P., 250; The future of blinded soldiers, W. G. P., 435; A case of poliomyelitis, M. V. Pierce, M.D., 436; Gaps in medical education, James J. Putnam, M.D., 733; The American ambulance hospital, Charles A. Powers, M.D., 957.
A rejoinder on workmen's compensation, W. G. Reed, M.D., 550; Pyorrhea alveolaris and its treatment, Beverley Robinson, M.D., 472; Ammonium salicylate in poliomyelitis, Beverley Robinson, M.D., 773; Better doctoring for less money, Stephen Rushmore, M.D., 434.
A square deal to all, M. A. Tighe, M.D., and J. A. Mehan, M.D., 471.
The treatment of hip fractures, Royal Whitman, M.D., 734; A propaganda of anti-vaccination, Samuel B. Woodward, M.D., 694; A correction, Frank G. Wheatley, M.D., 958.
Corsets versus backache and fatigue, Alice S. Cutler, M.D., 168.
Cow's Milk, idiosyncrasy to, its relation to anaphylaxis, Fritz B. Talbot, M.D., 409.
Crime, relation between, and mental defect, A. Warren Stearns, M.D., 406.
Criminal Abortion and the will to survive, 64.
Criminals, sterilization of, 612; Mental examination of, 613.
Crutches, latest thing in, 315.
Cul-de-Sac, the deep, relation of to prolapse of the rectum and uterus, and to rectocele, Daniel Fiske Jones, M.D., 623.
Cushing, Ernest Watson, M.D., Obituary, 359.
Cutter, John Clarence, M.D., Sarah H. Powers, 675.
Cutter Lectures, Harvard Medical School, 689.

Dack Family: a study in dysgenics, 512.
David, Jean-Pierre, the man who potted Pott, John Ridlon, M.D., 336.
Death Rates in United States in 1915, 511.
Dermatology, report on, John T. Bowen, M.D., 758.
Diabetes, pancreas and metabolism in, speculations regarding the, Hugh P. Greeley, M.D., 753.
Diabetes Mellitus, a statistical study of the mortality from, in Boston, from 1895 to 1913, with special reference to its occurrence among the Jews, H. Morrison, M.D., 54; Papers on, read at Massachusetts Medical Society Meeting, 147; Results obtained in the treatment of, May 1, 1915, to May 1, 1916, Elliott P. Joslin, M.D., 147; Definition and Detection of acidosis in, Albert A. Hornor, M.D., 148; Observations on the blood sugar in, Orville F. Rogers, Jr., M.D., 152; Discussion, 156; Treatment of, F. Freemont Smith, M.D., 476.
Diarsenolized Serum, treatment of paresis by intraventricular injections of, with presentation of cases, Philip Coombs Knapp, M.D., 24.
Diet, a rational, the treatment of obesity by, Edward E. Cornwall, M.D., 601.
Digestive Tract, a clinical study of the secretions of the, Thomas R. Brown, M.D., 775.
Digitalis, an unusual effect of, on the heart, with special reference to the electrocardiogram, Auricular standstill, Paul D. White, M.D., 233.
Diphtheria, report of the fatal cases of, occurring in the Connecticut valley health district in Massachusetts, during 1914, John S. Hitchcock, M.D., 718; William H. Park, M.D., 721.
District Medical Societies, the work of, 688.
Doten Bill, The, 835; House No. 1015, 840.
Drug Addiction and modern methods for its control, Solomon H. Rubin, M.D., 792; Modern control of, 804.
Duodenal Ulcer, a study of, from the diagnostic point of view, Roscoe H. Philbrick, M.D., 121.
Dupuytren, Guillaume, 1777-1835, William Pearce Coues, M.D., 489.
Dysentery, Amebic, peripheral neuritis following emetin treatment of, A. R. Kilgore, M.D., 380.
Dysgenics, story of the Dack family, 512.
Dystonia Musculorum Deformans, Oppenheim's new disease of children and young adults, Isador H. Coriat, M.D., 383.

Editorials. The status of the feeble-minded question, 26; the time element in surgery, 27; a new building for the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, 27; medical aspects of the Mexican situation, 28; the diagnostic significance of the Wassermann reaction, 61; the somatic factor in mental deficiency, 62; notification of pregnancy, 63; criminal abortion and the will to survive, 64; course in military medicine, Harvard Graduate School of Medicine, 64; The New York poliomyelitis epidemic, 101; American committee for medical preparedness, 103; national board of medical examiners, 104; prevalence of poliomyelitis, 137; tests for airmen, 138; more reports of apraxia, 139; the epidemics of poliomyelitis, 172; central control of tuberculosis, 174; welfare work among industrial corporations, 175; the action of alcohol, 208; hay fever, 209; diagnostic culture of tubercle bacillus 209; the Massachusetts Commission on Mental Diseases, 210; prevention and treatment of poliomyelitis, 242; two physicians of a former generation, 243; death of a distinguished surgeon, 278; mental deficiency and its remedy, 278; poliomyelitis and its remedy, 279; the latest thing in crutches, 315; the effect of the war on the younger generation in Germany, 315; medical aspects of Shakespeare's genius, 316; progress of the poliomyelitis epidemics, 351; the medical knowledge of Cervantes, 352; a materialistic view of mental disorder, 353; progress of poliomyelitis epidemics, 389; shipment of poisonous drugs by mail, 390; pyorrhea alveolaris and its treatment, 391; transmission of poliomyelitis, 426; state control of medical practice, 426; progress of poliomyelitis epidemics, 427; amputation without skin flaps, 428; the record of a medical class, 429; industrial insurance and workmen's compensation, 464; motion study for more efficient operating, 465; legislation on poliomyelitis, 466; prospective medical meetings, 505; a psychiatric clinic for prisoners, 506; the possibility of novocaine addiction, 507; progress of poliomyelitis epidemics, 507; industrial health insurance, 541; the role of the state tuberculosis sanitoria, 541; progress of poliomyelitis, 542; Columbus and syphilis, 543; New England Surgical Society, 575; elimination of the rat, 576; colored thinking, 576; the regulation of venereal disease in Australia, 577; a new form of post-graduate teaching, 578; two important legal decisions, 609; progress of poliomyelitis, 611; the sterilization of criminals, 612; mental examination of criminals, 613; the Moseley memorial, 614; Suffolk district censors' examination, 614; human types in the adolescent period, 649; hematogenous infections, 650; the New England tuberculosis conference, 651; progress of poliomyelitis, 651; the propaganda of anti-vaccination, 688; the work of district medical societies, 688; the Navy as a field for medical work, 689; the Cutter lectures, 689; progress of poliomyelitis, 690; ancient history of yellow fever, 728; progress of poliomyelitis, 730; the position of state epidemiologist, 731; electric delineation of viscera, 766; prevention and relief of heart disease, 767; progress of poliomyelitis, 768; the need of psychiatrists in the Army and Navy, 803; modern control of drug addiction, 804; tuberculosis investigation at Framingham, 805; acute psychoses of war, 805; progress of poliomyelitis, 806; the Doten Bill, 835; retroversion and ptosis, 836; standardization of first-aid methods, 837; industrial health insurance, 873; shock and low blood pressure, 873; progress of poliomyelitis, 874; health and sanitation in the Navy, 875; Massachusetts conference on feeble-mindedness, 877; Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, 877; medical aspects of social insurance, 917; smallpox in Roxbury, Massachusetts, 917; industrial health insurance, 918; progress of poliomyelitis, 919; state control of medical practice, 919; physicians and the income tax, 952; Massachusetts commission on social insurance, 952; Harvard medical school of China, 953; household nursing, 954; the health insurance bill in process of improvement, 955.

Efficiency Problems in country medical practice, Frank H. Washburn, M.D., 328.

Electric Delineation of Viscera, 766.

Emetin, The use of, Alfred C. Reed, M.D., 375; Treatment of amebic dysentery, peripheral neuritis following, A. R. Kilgore, M.D., 380.

Empyema, case of double, successfully operated upon, with remarks upon localization, F. B. Lund, M.D., and H. Morrison, M.D., 606.

Epidemiologist, the position of state, 731; Notice of a competitive examination for qualification to the position of in the Massachusetts State Department of Health, 735.

Epidural Intraspinal cord tumor of two years' duration, operation and recovery, W. E. Paul, M.D., 133; Abscess of pyogenic origin, a case of, W. J. Mixter, M.D., 864; (Pyogenic) a case with autopsy, James B. Ayer, M.D., and Henry R. Viets, M.D., 865.

Epilepsy, the first case in which abdominal surgery was suggested for the relief of, Hale Powers, M.D., and Frank H. Lahey, M.D., 124; Everett Flood, M.D., 408; Second note on the frequency of, in the offspring of epileptics, D. A. Thom, M.D., 599; The etiology of, some of the clinical evidence relating to, including some notes on the condition of the teeth as a factor in its production, and on its relation to alcoholism and to mental defect, Hale Powers, M.D., 861.

Essex North District Society, resolutions relative to Workingmen's Compensation Act, 33.

Ether Day exercises, Massachusetts General Hospital, 614; Anesthesia, H. H. Amsden, M.D., 832.

Eugenics, story of the Dack family, 512.

Exfoliative Dermatitis following neosalvarsan injections, Rene Bine, M.D., 96.

Eye Changes in renal diseases, Peter Hunter Thompson, M.D., 161.

Fatty Degenerative Changes in the Purkinje cell belt of the cerebellum in exhaustive infective psychoses, Egbert W. Fell, M.D., 819.

Feeble-Minded Question, the status of the, 26.

First-Aid Methods, standardization of, 837.

Flexed Spica and wheel-chair in the treatment of fractures of the neck of the femur, G. A. Moore, M.D., 448.

Florence Nightingale, portraits of, Maude Seymour Abbott, B. A., M.D., 361, 413, 453.

Fly Problem, 145.

Fractures of the lower end of the humerus, W. E. Ladd, M.D., 220; Symposium on, 437; The importance of early reduction of, with displacement, William Darrach, A.M., M.D., 437; Treatment of hip, F. J. Cotton, M.D., F.A.C.S., 438; Operative treatment of, of the patella, Charles L. Scudder, M.D., and Richard H. Miller, M.D., 441; Treatment of compound, under civil and military conditions, David Cheever, M.D., 442; Discussion, 445; of the neck of the femur, flexed spica and wheel-chair in the treatment of, G. A. Moore, M.D., 448; in a base hospital, Frederick A. Coller, M.D., 741.

Gastric Ulcer, a study of, from the diagnostic point of view, Roscoe H Philbrick, M.D., 121.

Gastritis, acute primary "idiopathic" phlegmonous, report of a case with bacteriological findings, Emanuel B. Fink, S.B., 795.

Gay, Warren Fisher, M.D., obituary, 359.

General Practitioner versus hospital clinic, (see "Better doctoring for less money").

Germany, effect of the war on the younger generation in, 315; underground hospital in, 769.

Goitre, symposium on, Massachusetts Medical Society meeting, 551; Discussion, 685.

Graves' Disease, (see thyroid gland), 568.

Gynecology, progress in, Stephen Rushmore, M.D., 494.

Harvard Graduate School, course in military medicine, 64.

Harvard Infantile Paralysis commission, 507.

Harvard Medical School, class of 1911, report of, 429; Personnel of surgical unit, 429; of China, 953.

Harvey's journey to Padua, William Pearce Coues, M.D., 774.

Hawaii, sanitary progress and vital statistics of, 546.

Hay-Fever, 209; Its treatment with autogenous vaccines and pollen extract, Leon S. Medalia, M.D., 201.

Health, preparedness for, Haven Emerson, M.D., 811; and sanitation in the Navy, 875.

Health Insurance, 354; 541; 549; A timely brief for, John A. Andrews, 539; Report on, by Massachusetts Medical Society, 585; The Doten Bill, 835; The Doten Bill (House No. 1015), 840; Industrial, 873; Workmen's sickness insurance and the doctor, 880; (see workmen's compensation); Legislation, 921.

Heart, an unusual effect of digitalis on the, with especial reference to the electrocardiogram, auricular standstill, Paul D. White, M.D., 233; Disease, prevention and relief of, 767.

Heliotherapy, artificial, the mercury-vapor-quartz light a valuable therapeutic agent, John Bryant, M.D., 600.

Hematocele of the tunica vaginalis, with the report of an unusual case, Charles M. Whitney, M.D., 51.

Hematogenous Infections, 650.

Hemoptysis as a symptom, Frederick T. Lord, M.D., 113.

Hexamethylenamin, excretion of, by damaged kidneys, George Gilbert Smith, M.D., 569.

Hip Fractures, treatment of, F. J. Cotton, M.D., 438; The flexed spica and wheel-chair in the treatment of fractures of the neck of the femur, G. A. Moore, M.D., 448; Treatment of, Royal Whitman, M.D., 734.

Household Nursing, 954.

Hygiene of the mind, Benjamin P. Croft, M.D., 251.

Hypersensitzation, protein extracts in states of, Horace M. Baker and Cleaveland Floyd, M.D., 199.

Hypertrophy of the thymus gland, roentgenotherapy in, Philip H. Cook, M.D., 483.

Hysterectomy, vaginal, for procidentia, with report of fifty cases, P. E. Truesdale, M.D., 13.

Idiosyncrasy to cow's milk, its relation to anaphylaxis, Fritz B. Talbot, M.D., 409.

Ileo-Cecal Valve and the chronic intestinal invalid, John Bryant, M.D., 572.

Industrial Accident Insurance and workingmen's compensation, 464; Decision of Michigan supreme court, 609 (see workingmen's compensation), (see health insurance).

Industrial Corporations, welfare work among, 175.

Industrial Health Insurance, 541; 549; 873; 918; a timely brief for, John A. Andrews, 539; (see health insurance) (see workmen's compensation).

Industrial Insurance and workmen's compensation, 464; First legislative convention of Massachusetts Physicians, 512 (see health insurance).

Infancy and Childhood, tubercular infection in, Vanderpoel Adriance, M.D., 215.

Infantile Paralysis (see poliomyelitis) a suggestion as to the prevention of, W. Stewart Whittemore, M.D., 231; Rat theory of, Mark W. Richardson, M.D., 397.

Intraspinal Epidural Abscess (pyogenic), case with autopsy, James B. Ayer, M.D., and Henry R. Viets, M.D., 865; A case of, of pyogenic origin, W. J. Mixter, M.D., 864.

Intraspinal Tumor, epidural, of two years' duration, operation, recovery, W. E. Paul, M.D., 133.

Is it Worth While?, Robert T. Edes, M.D., 359.

John Harvard Scholarships, address at the awarding of, Abner Post, M.D., 473.

Kern-Doremus Bill, 390.

Labor Pains, treatment of weak, Stephen Rushmore, M.D., 659.

Legislative Convention of Massachusetts Physicians, 512.

Leonardo Da Vinci's scientific research, with particular reference to his investigations of the vascular system, Arnold C. Klebs, M.D., 1, 45.

Lilienfeld X-Ray Tube, 432.

Lincoln, David Francis, M.D., obituary, 693.

Massachusetts Anti-Tuberculosis League, second annual meeting and conference, April 27, 1916, 522; Opening remarks of president, Vincent Y. Bowditch, M.D., 522; Report of secretary, Seymour H. Stone, 537.

Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, a new building for, 27.

Massachusetts Commission on mental diseases, 210; on social insurance, 952.

Massachusetts General Hospital, pay consultation clinic at 33; The Moseley memorial, 614.

Massachusetts Hospitals for Consumptives, problems of the trustees of, Arthur K. Stone, M.D., 533.

Massachusetts Medical Society, Essex North District Society, resolutions relative to Workingmen's Compensation Act, 33; Meeting of the section of medicine: Papers on diabetes mellitus, 147; Papers on nephritis, 158; Meeting of the section of surgery: Symposium on fractures, 437; First legislative convention of Massachusetts physicians, 512; Combined meeting of the sections of surgery and medicine: Symposium on goitre, 551; Stated meeting of the council, Oct. 4, 1916, 581; Essex North District Medical Society, 618; Discussion of symposium on goitre, 685; Report of committee on Workingmen's Compensation, 686; Symposium on the communicable diseases of childhood, 703; Middlesex South District Medical Society, 771; Workmen's sickness insurance and the doctor, report of committee, 880.

Massachusetts Tuberculosis Dispensaries and their relation to the practising physicians, John S. Hitchcock, M.D., 225.
Massachusetts Tuberculosis Sanatoria, role of, 541.
Mastoid Disease, the streptococcus mucosus capsulatus as a cause of, Gorham Bacon, M.D., 602; Operation, embolic pneumonia following the, George L. Richards, M.D., 206.
Measles and the public health, Edwin H. Place, M.D., 704.
Mechanism of the protection afforded by the drainage of prostatics as a preliminary to operation, Hugh Cabot, M.D., and E. Granville Crabtree, M.D., 633.
Medical aspects of social insurance, 917.
Medical Education, gaps in, James J. Putnam, M.D., 733.
Medical Ethics, question in, H. P. Greeley, M.D., 70.
Medical Examiners, national board of, 104.
Medical Heroism, an instance of, 549.
Medical Legislation: Kern-Doremus Bill, shipment of poisonous drugs by mail, 390; On poliomyelitis, 466; Plan of State Department of Health for more tuberculosis hospitals, Eugene R. Kelley, M.D., 524; Regarding Christian Science practitioners, 609; The Doten Bill, 835, 840; (see industrial accident insurance).
Medical Practice, country, some efficiency problems in, Frank H. Washburn, M.D., 328; (see state control of), 426.
Medical Preparedness, American committee for, 103; The "unpreparedness" of the medical profession, H. D. Arnold, 111.
Mental Deficiency, the somatic factor in, 62; The menace of, from the standpoint of heredity, Henry H. Goddard, Ph.D., 267; Its remedy, 278; Relation between, and crime, A. Warren Stearns, M.D., 406; Mental defect, relation of epilepsy to, Hale Powers, M.D., 861. (See mental hygiene.)
Mental Diseases, Massachusetts commission on, 210; A materialistic view of, 353; Psychiatric clinic for criminals, 506; Mental pitfalls of adolescence, Henry R. Stedman, M.D., 695; Massachusetts conference on feeble-mindedness, 877.
Mental Hygiene, Benjamin P. Croft, M.D., 251; Preparedness, James J. Putnam, M.D., 260; Meaning of movement for, William A. White, M.D., 264; Menace of mental deficiency from the standpoint of heredity, Henry H. Goddard, Ph.D., 269; Mental deficiency and its remedy, 278; Major divisions of, public, social, individual, E. E. Southard, M.D., 404; Massachusetts conference on feeble-mindedness, 877.
Mental Preparedness, James P. Putnam, M.D., 260.
Mercury-Vapor-Quartz Light as a valuable therapeutic agent, artificial heliotherapy, John Bryant, M.D., 600.
Metabolism, pancreas and, in diabetes, Speculations regarding the, Hugh P. Greeley, M.D., 753.
Mexican Situation, medical aspects of the, 28.
Military Medicine, course in, at Harvard Graduate School, 64.
Milwaukee County Medical Society, meeting of, 505.
Miscellany: The pay consultation clinic at the Massachusetts General Hospital, 33; American Red Cross preparations, 34; Red Cross appeal and instructions, 68; resume of communicable diseases for May, 1916, 109; communicable diseases for June, 143; the fly problem, 145; new method of making anti-hog-cholera serum, 179; United States medical reserve corps, 180; fraudulent infantile paralysis "cures," 248; prevention of poliomyelitis, 249; instructions to field workers regarding procedure for the control of poliomyelitis, 282; the Lilienfeld x-ray tube, 432; declining birth rates, 432; resume of communicable diseases in Massachusetts for August, 1916, 468; animal transmission of human diseases, 510; the story of the Dack family, a study in dysgenics, 512; the sanitary progress and vital statistics of Hawaii, 546; Baldwinsville hospital cottages, 547; occupation and health in adolescence, 548; health insurance, 549; an instance of medical heroism, 549; resume of communicable diseases for September, 1916, 618; army surgeons as military commanders, 620; American Society for the Control of Cancer, 654; competitive examination for state epidemiologist, 735; State Department of Health, 735; Massachusets State Department of Health, communicable diseases for October, 1916, 809; United States civil service examinations, 810; the Doten Bill (House No. 1015), 840; tendencies in health insurance legislation, 921.
Morland, Dr. William W., 243.
Moseley memorial, 614.
Motion Study for more efficient operating, 465.
Mount Sinai Hospital, memorandum in relation to the proposed "clinic for paying patients" to be conducted in collaboration with a group of specialists, 396.
Murphy, John Benjamin, M.D., death of, 278; Obituary, 840.

National Board of medical examiners, 104.
Navy as a field for medical work, 689; Health and sanitation in, 875.
Neosalvarsan injections, exfoliative dermatitis following, Rene Bine, M.D., 96.
Nephritis, tests of renal function from the standpoint of the general practitioner, Francis W. Peabody, M.D., 158; Eye changes in renal diseases, their diagnostic and prognostic value, Peter Hunter Thompson, M.D., 161; Discussion, 164.
Neuritis, Peripheral, following emetin treatment of amebic dysentery, A. R. Kilgore, M.D., 380.
Neuropsychic Affections, psychic and, in war, E. Regis, M.D., 784.
New England Surgical Society, 575.
Novocaine Addiction, the possibility of, 507, 615.

Obese, circulatory disturbance in the, Clifton L. Buck, M.D., 332.
Obesity, treatment of, by a rational diet, Edward E. Cornwall, M.D., 601.
Obituaries: Cushing, Ernest Watson, M.D., 357; Gay, Warren Fisher, M.D., 359; Murphy, John Benjamin, M.D., 840; Stone, Eugene Potter, M.D., 431; Lincoln, David, Francis, M.D., James J. Putnam, M.D., 693; Willis, Reuben, M.D., 431; Woodbury, Louis Augustus, M.D., 143.
Obstetrics, report of progress in, Robert L. De Normandie, M.D., F.A.C.S., 867; Treatment of weak labor pains, Stephen Rushmore, M.D., 659.
Occupational Diseases, certain occupations as contributing factors to diseases of the skin, Charles J. White, M.D., 35; Occupation and health in adolescence, 548.
Oppenheim's new disease of children and young adults, dystonia musculorum deformans, Isador H. Coriat, M.D., 383.
Ophthalmology, progress in, Edmund W. Clap, M.D., 798.
Orthopedic Surgery, eleventh report of progress in, Robert B. Osgood, M.D., Robert Soutter, M.D., Hermann Bucholz, M.D., Harry C. Low, M.D., and Murray S. Danforth, M.D., 309, 342.
Oxygen Supply, insufficient, as a factor in disease, Francis H. McCrudden, M.D., 480.

Pancreas and Metabolism in diabetes, speculations regarding the, Hugh P. Greeley, M.D., 753.
Paresis, treatment of, by intra-ventricular injections of diarsenolized serum, with presentation of cases, Philip Coombs Knapp, M.D., 24; General, report of the clinical symptomatology and laboratory findings in three cases of, under intravenous arsenobenzol treatment, G. E. Mott, M.D., and S. M. Bunker, M.D., 338.
Parker, William Thornton, M.D., 243.
Patella, operative treatment of fracture of the, Charles L. Scudder, M.D., and Richard H. Miller, M.D., 441.
Peptic Ulcer, a study of, from the diagnostic point of view, R. H. Philbrick, M.D., 121.
Peripheral Neuritis following emetin treatment of amebic dysenfery, A. R. Kilgore, M.D., 380.
Peruvian Custom, a, Horace Giraldi, 395.
Pericarditis, the occurrence and diagnosis of, Edwin A. Locke, M.D., 590.
Physicians and the income tax, 952.
Physically Defective, the, Edward O. Otis, M.D., 737.
Physiological point of view and autopsies, Francis H. McCrudden, M.D., 167.
Pistol-Shot Wound of the stomach, Charles A. Atwood, M.D., 136.
Pneumonia, Embolic, following the mastoid operation, George L. Richards, M.D., 206.
Poisonous Drugs by Mail, shipment of, Kern-Doremus Bill, 390.
Poliomyelitis, epidemic, the symptomatology and diagnosis in the acute stages, Francis R. Fraser, M.D., 83; The N. Y. epidemic, 101; Prevalence of, 137; Epidemics of, 172, 578, 619, Progress of epidemics, 211, 318, 351, 389, 427, 507, 542, 611, 651, 690, 730, 806, 874, 919; Suggestions as to the prevention of, W. Stewart Whittemore, M.D., 231; Symposium on, by Philadelphia County Medical Society, and the Philadelphia Pediatric Society, 238; Prevention and treatment of, 242, 249; Fraudulent infantile paralysis "cures," 248; Treatment of, 279; Instructions to field workers regarding procedure for the control, 282; Rat theory of, Mark W. Richardson, M.D., 397; Transmission of, 426; Lighter forms of, Arthur W. Fairbanks, M.D., 436; A case of, M. V. Pierce, M.D., 436; Legislation on, 466; Report of epidemic for August, 469; Anterior, A. J. McLaughlin, M.D., 587; Ammonium salicylate in, Beverley Robinson, M.D., 773.
Post-Graduate teaching, a new form of, 578.
Pott, the man who potted, Jean-Pierre David, John Ridlon, M.D., 336.
Pregnancy, notification of, 63; Complicated with hernia, John P. Gardiner, M.D., 637; Failing cardiac compensation during, Charles H. Lawrence, M.D., 858.
Preparedness for health, Haven Emerson, M.D., 811.
Procidentia, vaginal hysterectomy for, with a report of fifty cases, P. E. Truesdale, M.D., 13.
Progress: Progress in biochemistry, A. Everett Austin, M.D., 639; Report of progress in dermatology, John T. Bowen, M.D., 758; Progress in gynecology, Stephen Rushmore, M.D., 494; Report of progress in obstetrics, Robert L. De Normandie, M.D., F.A.C.S., 867; Progress in ophthalmology, Edmund W. Clap, M.D., 798; Eleventh report of progress in orthopedic surgery, Robert B. Osgood, M.D., Robert Soutter, M.D., Hermann Bucholz, M.D., Harry C. Low, M.D., and Murray S. Danforth, M.D., 309.

Prolapsus Ani in adults, T. Chittenden Hill, M.D., 127.
Prostatics, drainage of, the mechanism of the protection afforded by the, as a preliminary to operation, Hugh Cabot, M.D., and E. Granville Crabtree, M.D., 633.
Psychic and Neuropsychic Affections in war, E. Regis, M.D., 784.
Psychiatric Cases, indications for wet packs in, an analysis of 1000 packs given at the Psychopathic Hospital, Boston, Mass., Herman M. Adler, M.D., 673.
Psychiatric Clinic for prisoners, 506.
Psychiatrists, the need of, in the Army and Navy, 803.
Psychopathic Hospital, the Yerkes-Bridges point scale as applied to candidates for employment at the, C. S. Rossy, 822.
Psychoses, acute, of war, 805; Exhaustive infective, fatty degenerative changes in the Purkinje cell belt of the cerebellum, in, Egbert W. Fell, M.D.,
Purkinje Cell Belt of the cerebellum, fatty degenerative changes in the, in exhaustive infective psychoses, Egbert W. Fell, M.D., 819.
Pyorrhea Alveolaris and its treatment, 391; The present status of alveolar osteomyelitis, Leon S. Medalia, M.D., 367; And its treatment, Beverley Robinson, M.D., 472.

Rat Theory of poliomyelitis, Mark W. Richardson, M.D., 397; Elimination of the rat, 576.
Renal Diseases, eye changes in, etc., Peter Hunter Thompson, M.D., 161.
Renal Function, tests of, from the standpoint of the general practitioner, Francis W. Peabody, M.D., 158.
Retroversions, the radical cure of some, an expedient for, Edward Reynolds, M.D., 830; And ptosis, 836.
Rockefeller Foundation, establishment of psychiatric clinic for criminals by, 506.
Roentgenological Examination, pre-operative in cancer of the breast, John W. Lane, M.D., 232.
Roentgen Ray, treatment of Graves' disease by, Malcolm Seymour, M.D., 568.
Roentgenotherapy in hypertrophy of the thymus gland, Philip H. Cook, M.D., 483; Some considerations on the present status of, Joseph Shohan, M.D., 321.

Sanguineous Lacrymation, M. J. Konikow, M.D., 607.
Sanitation and health in the Navy, 875.
Scarlet Fever, control of, D. M. Lewis, M.D., 682; The etiology of, F. B. Mallory, M.D., 713; Charles V. Chapin, M.D., 715.
Secretions of the digestive tract, a clinical study of the, Thomas R. Brown, M.D., 775.
Shakespeare's Genius, medical aspects of, 316.
Shock at the front, W. T. Porter, M.D., 854; And low blood pressure, 873.
Sickness Survey of Boston, Frederic J. Cotton, M.D., 112.
Skin, diseases of the, certain occupations as contributing factors to, Charles J. White, M.D., 35; Normal reaction of the, to stroking, Edward A. Tracy, M.D., 197.
Social Survey, functions of, in state hospitals, Hannah Curtis, 271; Cases, the intensive group of, Mary C. Jarrett, 824.
Smallpox in Roxbury, Massachusetts, 917.
Society Reports: Boston Surgical Society, tenth meeting, 608; eleventh meeting, 642, twelfth meeting, 684; Essex North District Medical Society, 618; First Legislative Convention of Massachusetts Physicians, 512; Neurological Institute, clinical conference of, meeting of March 14, 1916, 169; the New England Society of Dermatology and Syphilis, meeting of January 27, 1916, 761; New England Pediatric Society, meeting of Feb. 4, 1916, 237, meeting of March 3, 1916, 276; meeting of March 31, 1916, 386; meeting of April 28, 1916, 422; New England branch of the American Urological Association, fall meeting, November 30, 1915, 644; Philadelphia County Medical Society and the Philadelphia Pediatric Society, symposium on poliomyelitis, 238.
Soft Corn, pathology of, Henry M. Chase, M.D., 134.
Spinal Fluid Sugar, J. B. Rieger, S.M., and H. C. Solomon, M.D., 817.
Sprains and sprain-fracture of the wrist joint, A. C. Burnham, M.D., 118.
Springfield Academy of Medicine, post-graduate classes at, 578.
Stammering, an outline of the elements and treatment of, Anne Bradstreet Stedman, 818.
Staphylococcus Pyogenes, acute arthritis experimentally produced by intravenous injections of, E. C. Steinharter, M.D., 59.
State Department of Health, plans for more tuberculosis hospitals, Eugene R. Kelley, M.D., 524.
Stone, Eugene Potter, M.D., obituary, 431.
Streptococcus Mucosus Capsulatus as a cause of mastoid disease, Gorham Bacon, M.D., 602.
Stroking, the normal reaction of the skin to, Edward A.Tracy, M.D., 197.
Strudwick, Edmund, an instance of medical heroism, 549.
Suffolk District Censors' examination, 614.
Surgery, motion study for more efficient operating, 465.
Syphilis of today, the menace of, to the family of tomorrow, J. Harper Blaisdell, M.D., 7; Contact points between pulmonary tuberculosis and, James A. Lyon, M.D., 285; Were the sailors of Columbus the first European syphilitics?, A. F. Downing, M.D., 515; Columbus and syphilis, 543; Of the lungs, Nathaniel K. Wood, M.D., 667.

Teeth, as a factor in the production of epilepsy, Hale Powers, M.D., 861.
Testicle, undescended, in children, C. G. Mixter, M.D., 631.
Therapeutics, teaching of, as a branch of applied physiology, F. H. McCrudden, M.D., 93.
Thymus Gland, roentgenotherapy in hypertrophy of, Philip H. Cook, M.D., 483.
Thyroid Gland, surgery of, C. A. Porter, M.D., 551; Recent advances in our knowledge of the active constituent in, its chemical nature and function, Edward C. Kendall, Ph.D., 557; Conditions affecting secretion of the, W. B. Cannon, M.D., 562; The clinical value of metabolic studies of cases, Walter M. Boothby, M.D., 564; Partial thyroidectomy with local anesthesia, scopolamine and morphia, Frank H. Lahey, M.D., 566; Treatment of Graves' disease by roentgen ray, Malcolm Seymour, M.D., 568.
Time Element in surgery, 27.
Transduodenal Bands, congenital, a study of the symptoms and treatment of, John Homans, M.D., 665.
Triare, Paul (Army surgeons as military commanders), 621.
Tubercle Bacillus, diagnostic culture of, 209.
Tubercular Infection in infancy and childhood, Vanderpoel Adriance, M.D., 215.
Tuberculosis, pulmonary, anatomic form and posture important factors in the treatment of, Joel E. Goldthwait, M.D., 88; Hemoptysis as a symptom, Frederick T. Lord, M.D., 113; Common sense and consumption, J. B. Hawes, 2d, M.D., 115; Prevalence of, in Massachusetts, J. B. Hawes, 2d, M.D., 146; Central control of, 174; Massachusetts tuberculosis dispensaries and their relation to the practising physicians, John S. Hitchcock, M.D., 225; A year's work in Worcester tuberculosis hospital, Albert C. Getchell, M.D., 229; Pulmonary, contact points between, and syphilis, James A. Lyon, M.D., 285; Carriers, Charles E. Perry, M.D., 292; In adults, what constitutes clinical?, George L. Schadt, M.D., 298; Conference, third New England, Philip P. Jacobs, 395; Treatment of, in infancy, W. W. Howell, M.D., 411; Conference of the Massachusetts Anti-Tuberculosis League, 522; Hospitals, plans of the State Department of Health for more, Eugene R. Kelley, M.D., 524; Relation of the anti-tuberculosis society to the local board of health, John W. Tapper, 526; The visiting tuberculosis nurse, Mary Van Zile, R.N., 528; In rural communities, Vanderpoel Adriance, M.D., 530; Some of the problems of the trustees of the Massachusetts hospital for consumptives, Arthur K. Stone, M.D., 533; The value of a program of work for anti-tuberculosis societies, Mrs. W. H. Lothrop, 535; Role of Massachusetts sanatoria, 541; Conference, the New England, 651; Investigation at Framingham, 805; The history of the growth of the anti-tuberculosis movement in Massachusetts and the lessons to be learned therefrom, Vincent Y. Bowditch, M.D., 847.
Tumor, cord, epidural intraspinal, of two years' duration, operation, recovery, W. E. Paul, M.D., 133.
Tunica Vaginalis, hematocele of the, etc., Charles M. Whitney, M.D., 51.
Typhus Fever, a report of three cases of, M. G. Berlin, M.D., 755.

United States medical reserve corps, 180; Death rates in 1915, 511; Civil service examination, 810.

Vaccines, autogenous, hay-fever treated by, Leon S. Medalia, M.D., 201; Treatment of alveolar osteomyelitis by, Leon S. Medalia, M.D., 367; 391.
Vaginal Hysterectomy for procidentia, with a report of fifty cases, P. E. Truesdale, M.D., 13.
Vasomotor Disturbances of the upper air passages, the diagnosis and management of, J. L. Goodale, M.D., 181.
Venereal Disease in Australia, the regulation of, 577.
Viscera, Electric delineation of, 766.

War, effect of, on younger generation in Germany, 315.
Wassermann Reaction, the diagnostic significance of the, 61.
Weasel in medicine, 403.
Welfare Work among industrial corporations, 175.
Wet Packs, indications for, in psychiatric cases, an analysis of 1000 packs given at the Psychopathic Hospital, Boston, Mass., Herman M. Adler, M.D., 673.
White, James Clarke, M.D., memorial address, Abner Post, M.D., and Frederick C. Shattuck, M.D., 79.

Whooping Cough, the measures to be taken for its control and prevention, John Lovett Morse, M.D., 723.
Willis, Reuben, M.D., obituary, 431.
Woodbury, Louis Augustus, M.D., obituary, 143.
Worcester Tuberculosis Hospital, a year's work in, Albert C. Getchell, M.D., 229.
Workingmen's Compensation, medical aspects of, Francis D. Donoghue, M.D., 400; Restoring the injured employee to work, Francis D. Donoghue, M.D., 457; Hospitals and workmen's insurance, F. J. Cotton, M.D., 461; Industrial insurance and workmen's compensation, 464; A square deal to all, M. A. Tighe, M.D., and J. A. Mehan, M.D., 471; The viewpoints, W. H. Merrill, M.D., 472; First legislative convention of Massachusetts physicians, 512; A rejoinder on, William G. Reed, M.D., 550; Report on, of the Massachusetts Medical Society, 584, 686; Decision of Michigan supreme court relative to, 609; Charles Malone, M.D., 773; Workmen's sickness insurance and the doctor, report of committee of the Massachusetts Medical Society, 880; The Workingmen's Compensation Act, John C. Crosby, 883; A consideration of workingmen's accident and sickness insurance in their relation to the medical profession, F. J. Cotton, M.D., 893; History and operation of the Massachusetts Workingmen's Compensation law, Francis D. Donoghue, M.D., 897; Workingmen's compensation for accident and sickness, from the point of view of the general practitioner, W. H. Merrill, M.D., 902; Workingmen's compensation for accident and sickness, from the point of view of organized labor, John P. Meade, 905; Administration of the Workingmen's Compensation Act by the City of Cambridge, Massachusetts, Herbert J. Cronin, M.D., 906; Industrial health legislation, Francis W. Anthony, M.D., 911; The medical department of a modern industrial plant, F. O. West, M.D., 914; Medical aspects of social insurance, 917; The Doten Bill, its graver errors, John J. Hurley, M.D., 922.

X-Ray Tube, Lilienfeld, 432.

Yellow Fever, ancient history of, 728.
Yerkes-Bridges Point Scale, the, as applied to candidates for employment at the Psychopathic Hospital, C. S. Rossy, 822.